42nd Annual Home Tour in Bisbee: November 27 & 28, 2026

The 42nd Home Tour and Art Auction in the historic mining town of Bisbee will take place on Friday and Saturday, November 27th and 28th, the two days following Thanksgiving. Hosted by the Bisbee Woman's Club (BWC), this year's event offers ticket holders a chance to explore nine private homes, two hotels, a mining-era social club and a church between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. The addresses stay secret until the day of the event.

Throughout each day, attendees can also shop the Cash & Carry Boutique and bid on art in the Serbian Hall at 216 Park Avenue in the Bakerville neighborhood. Each year, artists from Bisbee and beyond contribute pieces in all media, including decorated chairs and other furniture (a tradition since 1999 when Club members sold chairs in the driveway of a Tour home to raise extra funds).

Tour attendees should return to the Serbian Hall to place final Auction bids after the homes close at 4 p.m. on Saturday: the silent auction for all art begins at 4:45 p.m., and bidders must be present to win.

Presby Pickins' Returns for Its Fifth Season

Presby Pickins' Flea Market opens its fifth season on Saturday, November 7, inviting shoppers to discover unique finds, everyday bargains, and unexpected treasures in Fountain Hills.

The outdoor market features vendors from Fountain Hills and communities across the Valley, including Maricopa, Apache Junction, and Peoria. Shoppers can browse collectibles, crafts, jewelry, art, home décor, household goods, and more.

You'll also meet our market mascot, PresBee Picker, hunting for treasures as well as our yellow-apron church volunteers who offer a variety of bargain-priced items donated by congregants and the community.

Food trucks and entertainment add to the fun, making it an enjoyable outing with friends and neighbors.

Presby Pickins' is an outreach ministry of Fountain Hills Presbyterian Church. Over its first four seasons, vendor fees and sales of donated items have enabled the ministry to give back more than $40,000 to strengthen church ministries and support local organizations and community causes. Each month, the market also spotlights a local organization or community cause, giving visitors an opportunity to learn about its work and ways to help.

Markets run from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. on November 7 and December 5, 2026, and February 6, March 6, and April 3, 2027. There is no January market.

The Presby Pickins' Flea Market takes place on the church campus at 13001 N. Fountain Hills Boulevard in Fountain Hills, AZ. Shoppers and prospective vendors can learn more at www.fhpresbyterian.info/fleamarket and follow @presbypickins on Facebook and Instagram.

Festival in the Mountains Coming to the North Mountain Visitor Center this Fall!

On Friday, November 6 through Sunday, November 8, North Mountain Visitor Center will host their second annual Festival in the Mountains. The weekend is shaping up to be fun for the whole family. Here is a taste of just some of what is happening:

On Friday night the festivities will kick off with Pat McMahon, the beloved entertainer best known for The Wallace and Ladmo Show, whose decades in television, radio, and community life have made him a true Arizona icon. Join in as Pat shares his story and the remarkable journey that shaped the Valley's history and character.

Throughout the weekend enjoy live music from local favorites: Glen Gardner, Eric Ramsey, George & Georgia, Mark Bishop Evans and Nancy Elliot. You can also join guided hikes, check out geology demos and keep the kids busy with desert-themed story times and crafts, plus bring your pup along to enter the Dog Costume Contest.

Get a jump on your holiday shopping at The Market, where you'll find unique jewelry, ceramics, children's books, ornaments, plus photography and art. Coffee and baked goods will be available to keep you fueled while you browse. (A few vendor spots are still open for Sunday—see contact info below if you're interested!)

Rattlesnake Garage will also be on hand on Saturday morning, offering the chance to safely meet some of our desert creatures up close.

In addition to a silent auction with fun baskets and valuable items up for bid, you can enter a drawing for a Dierks Bentley autographed guitar.

The Festival in the Mountains is a community event and a fundraiser for the Save Our Mountains

Foundation (SOMF), whose mission is to acquire and preserve land to assist in the expansion of the Phoenix Mountains Preserve. SOMF

Indoor Treasure Hunting in Apache Junction

When the Arizona sun is brutal or a rare rainy day spoils outdoor plans, there's a cool, dry place to shop for one-of-a-kind finds. Superstition Indoor Flea Market opened on Nov. 1, 2024, and is celebrating its second anniversary.

Owner Christine Visyak said the idea was to bring "an old-school flea market atmosphere - indoors, where visitors can escape the Arizona heat and rainy weather."

Inside the 11,500-square-foot building, more than 20 small-business owners share 50 booths. The selection is wide-ranging: antiques, vintage glassware, jewelry, saddles, tools, holiday décor, toys, die-cast models,

prints, DVDs and Blu-rays. Concert, sports and movie shirts and jackets are also on offer.

Motorcycle fans will find gently used Harley-Davidson apparel, leather jackets, vests, chaps and parts. Shoppers looking for something more personal can get a tattoo or piercing on site.

The vendors are seasoned pros with decades of experience, and they're on hand in their booths to talk about their products and answer questions. The atmosphere is friendly and family-oriented, with something for guests of all ages.

Supporting local entrepreneurs is central to the mission. "Our goal is to become a premier flea market destination in Arizona," Christine said. "We are proud to support local small-business owners who may not be able to afford today's high storefront rents. Please shop locally - our small business owners appreciate it and are grateful for your business every day."

Superstition Indoor Flea Market

is located at 10645 E. Apache Trail/E. Main Street in Apache Junction, AZ on the southwest corner of the business plaza at E. Apache Trail and Signal Butte, behind the Denny's restaurant. Hours are Thursday through Sunday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

For more information, call 480-365-9169 or visit superstitionfleamarket.com. The Market is also on Facebook, Instagram and TikTok under Those Were The Days!

Taking a Panoramic View Looking at it from a Wide-Angle Lens

by Jay Mark

Full and honest confession. From my earliest days, I have always been captivated by photography. Based on my age, which I am not revealing, I have used nearly every photographic format – from the classic Speed Graphic, to the Argus C3 35 mm camera, to the single lens reflex, to digital cameras.

For the most part, I have seen it all. Gigantic advancements and improvements. Oh, I almost forgot – the digital phone camera. Like many, I wasn't comfortable with radical changes – only to humbly and fully embrace it over time.

It's not unlike aviation. Think of it. In a century-and-a-quarter we've observed a machine that could barely hang on to a few feet above the earth, to today where a whole community it would seem, can soar through the air for endless hours from one side of the planet to the other side. Photographically, cameras have gone from cumbersome one shot at a time that had to wait for the darkroom to see what was shot. Now, we can take 100s of photos at once. And view them instantly.

An odd c1908 photographic, panoramic postcard started a search for how it was made. Jay Mark

What brought all this to mind was my recent discovery of an unusually undated, panoramic photographic postcard. On its 3 ½ x11" length, are depicted 22 people that appear to be early 20th century college students. That got me thinking about the challenges early photographers faced when attempting to take wide-angle, panoramic pictures.

Printed on the back of the card was a valuable clue as to how this remarkable image was accomplished. It reads "o. It told me that that company that manufactured the camera, also produced the film and paper.

In the time after George Eastman introduced his roll-film Kodak camera in 1888, amateur photography exploded. That provided opportunities to develop specialty cameras. In 1896, Peter Nickolaus Angston, a German inventor living in Burlington, Wisconsin, devised a camera with the capability of shooting 160° wide-angle, panoramic photographs.

He began selling them in Chicago. But soon, his patent was purchased by four Burlington businessmen, who organized the Multiscope & Film Company that by 1901 was marketing Angston's camera under the Al-Vista name.

The ultimate Al-Vista camera was the No. 5-F that featured changeable fronts, different size "fan blades" (lower center) that adjusted speed, and case.

The camera was a boxy device clad in textured black leather, resembling other cameras of the day. Except where a lens, shutter and bellows would be was a large opening that featured a lens attached to a leather bellow folded into a narrow case.

When activated, the motor-driven lens would scan the image across film held across a curved back. (Animations of the process can be found on YouTube). Amateurs now had their own wide-angle camera. But at a cost. The most expensive was priced at $45 in 1908. That's over $1600 today. Nearly the cost of the new folding iPhone Duo. And other phones that have a panorama mode, which takes all the hassle out of wide-angle photography.

For a brief period, to expand the camera's use, the Multiscope and Film Co. produced a changing front camera that could replace the wide-angle format mechanism and accommodate a conventional lens and bellows. But the steep price virtually assured the camera couldn't keep up with the competition. After 17 years, the company finally folded, so to speak, leaving a unique camera in the dustbin of history.

Because of their rarity, very few Al-Vista's come on the market making their value high. Cameras in functioning condition will begin at over $1000, rising to over $2000.

7 DAYS A WEEK 10AM-6PM

Carefree Antique/Vintage Shops Find New Homes

Good news for antique and vintage lovers: all three Carefree shops displaced by the sale of Los Portales Mall on Easy Street have relocated and are ready for visitors.

Bilinda's Vintage Treasures has moved to a booth in the Antique Trove, a busy mall with plenty of booths to explore at 2020 N. Scottsdale Road in Scottsdale. The year-round Christmas room comes along, filled with trees, vintage ornaments, a menorah, nativity sets and festive décor. See Bilinda's ad on page 20. Stop by to see the new displays. For more information, call the Trove at 480-947-6074 or Bilinda's at 602-732-8866, or email bilindasvintage@gmail.com.

Arizona Territory Antiques has settled into the Sundancer Center, on the east side of Tom Darlington and immediately south of the Chevron station. At 7202 E. Ho Road, this is just a block north of the shop's previous location. Shoppers will find a large selection of Native American beadwork, Old West antiques, pottery, kachinas, Western art, cowhides and home décor, along with Zapotec and Navajo rugs, runners and pillows. Arizona Territory Antiques is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and open Mondays by chance. To learn more, contact Rick at 660-605-2338 or Lori at 520-561-6554.

Carefree Collective has found a new location at 7211 E. Ho Road, Suite 18 in the building just north of its former spot, next to Little Barber Shop & It's a Nail Thing. The shop offers vintage and mid-century modern pieces, Christmas and seasonal décor, books, collectibles, gifts, glassware, furniture and home décor, with both new and gently loved items. Carefree Collective is open Wednesday through Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Tuesday by chance. For more information, call or text 480-299-5937. Watch for a new website and Instagram to come!

Whether you're hunting for holiday décor, Western treasures or a mid-century find, these shops are worth a visit to their new locations. Stop by soon and tell them The Antique Register sent you!

The BWC is an all-volunteer 501(c)(3) service organization founded in 1900 and one of the oldest philanthropic organizations in the state. Its vision is to foster a more educated, empowered and engaged community; to that end, Club President Susie Morss notes, "All proceeds from this fundraiser go directly into grants and scholarships in our community, as well as helping us to maintain our historic Clubhouse."

Built in 1902 on land leased for a dollar per year from the mining company Phelps Dodge, the Clubhouse served as a gathering place for early BWC members.

The women took out a loan and hired local architect Frederick C. Hurst to design the building. Throughout the 20th century, the Clubhouse played a significant role in the town, hosting cultural, educational and social programs for residents. It is the oldest continuously operating women's club clubhouse in the state of Arizona and was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1985.

Another historic building, the base of operations for this year's tour, was built as a social club in 1939 by the men of Bisbee's vital South Slavic community. It was an outgrowth of an ethnic benevolent society that provided insurance and burials for members, as well as religious and cultural education for children. The community participated in local parades, proudly flying their nation's flag as well as the Stars and Stripes. Fifteen years later, after many fundraisers, the community built the Saint Stephen Nemanja Serbian Orthodox Church next door; at the time, it was the only Eastern Orthodox church in the state. Fitting for a copper mining town, the cross, dome and doors were made of that metal. All the labor was done by Serbian volunteers, with materials purchased as they were needed. The church will be open to ticket holders on both days.

Tickets are $20 and are available online beginning November 1st or at the Serbian Hall on both days. Maps of tour home locations and more local information will also be available there. Plan to stay the night so you can enjoy all the art, music, restaurants and mile-high scenery that greater Bisbee has to offer – after all, your ticket is good for both days! For more information and to purchase tickets, visit bisbeewomansclub.com.

Ann's Lovin' Ewe

A Russian Love Story from a Century Ago

by Ann Stewart

My grandparents never kissed until their engagement. What a love story!

In 1922, two German Mennonites met in a Bible School in Tschongraw Crimea. My grandmother, Lena Martens, stepped off the train from Orenburg over 1500 miles away only to discover her luggage had been stolen enroute and she would have to attend classes each day in the same brown dress that she'd wash once a week.

She wasn't interested in showing off. Besides, the school frowned on romantic distractions. She hadn't planned on getting married; she'd already helped raise her ten younger siblings, recently fought a battle with typhoid fever and lost her hair, then lost her young father and two little sisters. She would focus on the education she'd so longed for.

Nikolai Siemens, on the other hand, had purchased gold rings before he had even set eyes on Lena Martens. When Nikolai met the sweet girl with a heart-shaped face framed by short red curly hair, he began hoping the ring belonged to her.

But how could Nikolai possibly discover if Lena had a love interest back in her little village of Rodnitschnoje #10? The school had rules: no dating, no marriage and there must always be six eyes in a room when there were two persons of the opposite sex. In other words, he could never ask her a personal question without someone else listening in.

Nikolai soon solved that problem by bringing his two-year-old niece to Lena's door to witness his odd question, "Is there somebody special back in Orenburg?"

But was this God's will? Nikolai wondered. One day when he saw Lena in the hallway struggling to unlock her door, Nikolai prayed, "Lord if I am to marry her, may I unlock the door." When she handed him the key, he inserted it in the lock, and the door sprung open. She was unaware why he almost skipped down the hall.

He had her ring; but did it fit? When he showed it to his sister, she slipped it on her finger and headed out to visit Lena. "Do you want to try on my ring?" she asked Lena. Ironically, the ring was a perfect fit.

But Lena would never wear it. Stalin had other plans and closed the Bible School and arrested the professors. To release the teachers from prison in Simferopol, students pooled their money, and Nicolai sold the two gold rings.

That summer Lena toiled on the threshing floor in Nikolai's village. As foreman, Nikolai kept an eye on her and asked if she would meet him that evening on the path behind the farms. Though they'd never spent time together alone, she had listened to Nikolai's preaching, sung under his direction, and learned much about him in her two years of Bible School. She wasn't surprised when he took her hand and asked, "Would you take this hand for life?"

She had no idea what was coming. That five years later they would have to flee Crimea and end up trapped in Moscow with Stalin threatening deportation. That her husband would be jailed in Lubjanka and that she'd hide out in a mother/baby home until her third child was born. That she would escape Moscow but would be forced to leave behind a toddler in Crimea. That two years later she would be reunited with her five-year-old first-born.

Or that fifty years later her seven children and twelve grandchildren would gather on their homestead in Blaine, Washington for a family reunion to celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. And that at the church ceremony, their simple love story would be told and the congregation learned why Nikolai and Lena had never worn wedding bands.

And she couldn't know that her children and grandchildren believed in this love story. To celebrate and honor it, they surprised Nicolai and Lena with two golden rings. Two golden rings for the two hands that went through life empty, and two hearts that were full.

Anticipating the Wonder of the Holiday Season

by Annice Bradley Rockwell

Often one of the most anticipated times of the year, the holiday season is filled with plentiful opportunities to create spaces that welcome and inspire. With themed gatherings planned for family and friends, we often feel a great sense of anticipation to share our creativity and to beautifully transform our homes to suit the season of celebration.

Charming Authenticity

In order to design a seasonal space, we can often use some of our favorite classic antiques accented by elements of nature to surround us with charming authenticity. An antique lift-top mule chest in early red paint can be heightened and enhanced by stacking a smaller antique box in blue on top. Nestling boughs of evergreen between a primitive trencher and a blue decorated stoneware jug adds a balancing touch of nature to our vignette.

Antique sleds that radiantly reveal their use from age can be adorned with a spray of fresh hemlock, red berries and twinkling white lights to brighten the corner of the hearth. Centerpieces created by using a large, divided carrier filled with greens and cones can feature a glass chimney to hold an antique hogscraper or one of our favorite scented country candles like "Orange Clove Pomander" or "Balsam Christmastide."

Early punched tin lighting that has come to represent tradition and comfort can be used to cast the beautiful play of light it was intended to create. Petite cedar trees in various sizes can be placed in crocks, firkins, early kegs or baskets to enliven a seating area or even brighten a country bathroom. Handmade country stockings fashioned from woven coverlets in bright red can be filled with greens and hung on our mantel or an interior door to add texture and color to our rooms.

Embracing the Magic

One of the blessings of the holidays is planning a festive night out with friends to take in the sights and sounds of Christmas. Main streets of small towns become magical and unusually alive on an Open House Night when storefront windows gleam with the glow of Christmas. Through the front windows we can see freshly decorated inviting displays of antiques, textiles, scented candles and decorations that deeply appeal to our country style. As we enter these local shops the music of the dulcimer plays traditional tunes while we take in a cup of hot mulled cider while we browse. We know that the hand-selected purchases we make are even more special because they are local and support the shops that provide us with a sense of genuine connection.

After finding the perfect treasures to give as gifts or the ideal antique to enhance our displays, we can visit a local restaurant that promises to be a memorable part of our night. Taking time to plan a festive, local night out is time well-spent as we share in the abundant blessings of giving.

This season, enjoy the anticipation of creating magic. Transform your home to include the splendor of a country Christmas. Spend a treasured evening with friends embracing the sense of wonder that this spectacular season always brings.

Life in Skunk Hollow

The Day That Frosty Melted

by Julie A. Druck

This week I undid the house of all its holiday finery and put the Christmas decorations away for another year. That is all except Frosty. I have a vintage plastic blow mold Frosty decoration from the '50s. Every year for decades he stood sentinel next to the front door of my grandparents' home. As a little girl I often had a Christmas picture taken next to him. When my grandfather died 13 years ago, I inherited Frosty and he has proudly stood sentinel on MY front porch for those years. But alas, Frosty has begun to melt.

I noticed how bad he was last night. We had an extremely windy day, and Frosty had blown over. When I went to set him back up, I saw what I have been unwilling to acknowledge for the last several years. Frosty's base was becoming more and more brittle and cracked. My husband has been telling me for a while that Frosty's time has come, but I didn't want to hear it. Last night, I couldn't deny the truth.

It sounds crazy that I'm mourning the loss of a Christmas decoration. But, in my mind, Frosty represents something much more intangible than a hunk of plastic. I lived with my grandparents for three years as a little girl and then for another ten years right next door to them. Their home was a haven of comfort and peace and joy to me. Every day was a holiday with my grandmother. Our supper table always looked like a lay-out from a vintage women's magazine – deliciousness and simple beauty were always on the menu. And when any holiday rolled around, my grandmother went full tilt into making it special in every way. As for my grandfather, he was a bright beacon of warm light who loved me – not for what I did or didn't do – but simply because I was his Julie.

So, you see, in my mind, Frosty is a symbol of all the love and joy I received in my grandparents' home. But as I set Frosty upright again, I knew it was time to say goodbye. I went in and tearfully told my husband that Frosty could go with three stipulations: that he would take one last photo of me with my snowman, that he would dispose of the remains without telling me how or when or where he did it and that he would remove Frosty's little metal shovel and save it for me as a keepsake.

As I contemplated my decision further, I realized that just because Frosty goes, doesn't mean that the memories he represents have to go. I still hold all the dearness and love of my grandparents in my heart that I can access at any time. And so, though Frosty won't be back again someday, he, and all that he stands for, will forever hold a warm place in my heart.
